Building a firm foundation
for our future leaders

MAXIM INSTITUTE

About the programme

Embark on a transformative 12-week residential summer programme designed exclusively for university students and recent graduates with a passion for politics and policy. Interns spend the morning immersed in classes led by experts in theology, philosophy, history, law, politics, and media. In the afternoon, they delve into primary texts from some of the world's greatest thinkers. And in the evening interns host thought-leaders or participate in lively debates that challenge and expand their perspectives.

Join us to enhance your critical thinking, communication, and leadership skills. Build lasting relationships with fellow interns, professionals, and policymakers. Apply now for an unforgettable summer that will provide you with a unique learning experience and shape your future.

"This Internship has grounded the way I think and prepared me for what's next."
